Celebrates 20 Years With Donation of A New Community Playground

Grand Wailea, along with Pyramid Management, celebrates its 20th birthday with the donation of a 4,000 square-foot community playground in South Maui. As part of the new South Maui Community Park, Grand Wailea worked with the County of Maui, Department of Parks and Recreation department to construct the playground.

The play structures gives the playground a unique appearance, provide challenging experiences and encourage sharing and interaction amongst the children. The climbers also offer a 30 percent reduced carbon footprint for a sustainable option, and set on a Rubber Safety Surface for a smoother, more resilient and enjoyable experience.

The playground offers a variety of play structures for children including:

- Hemisphere Climber™ and O-Zone™ Climber
- Spacenet™ Climbers
- The Peak™ Rock Climber
- Tree House
- Humpback Whale Climber – commissioned by Grand Wailea and inspired by Maui’s most loyal visitors.

“Playgrounds play an important role in the physical growth, emotional, social and cognitive development of our children,” says Matt Bailey, managing director of Grand Wailea. “We are so pleased to provide this special place where families can gather to be creative, have fun and create lasting memories.”

Grand Wailea coordinated a community build day with its team members and support from other local organizations. The community build day included the assembly of play structures, planting trees and other beautification projects for the playground.

Grand Wailea prides itself on being a good corporate citizen by making more than $1 million in charitable contributions, annually. The contributions are provided in a variety of ways including monetary donations, gift certificates for rooms and food and beverage credits as well as in-kind services.
