Hawaiian
Sea Salt Bath
Collection

FIVE ISLANDS • FIVE HAWAIIAN SEA SALTS • FIVE INDIGENOUS BATHS

the Healing
Power
of PA'AKAI

For centuries, native Hawaiians on the island of Moloka'i harvested sea salt from her clean, clear waters. The sea salt, “pa‘akai,” was considered sacred - a source of life and health.

Today, Spa Grande proudly re-introduces the power of the sea salt in its famous hydrotherapy termé circuit, reinvented for our time in partnership with Moloka'i salt masters. Each “Island Bath” combines a special selection of all natural, freshly harvested premium sea salt, blended with an array of indigenous minerals, herbs, fruits and spices that epitomize the personality of each island.

The Hawai'i Bath

Kilauea Black Sea Salt & Vanilla Orchid

The island of Hawai'i is also known as the Big Island, since it is larger than all the other islands combined. It is legendary for Mt. Kilauea, the world's largest and most active volcano, and its reputation for growing magnificent orchids has also earned it the name of "The Orchid Isle." The Hawai'i Bath is a blend of Kilauea black sea salt, organic kava powder with the soft scent of vanilla orchids and essential oils of rosewood, cinnamon, and petit grain.

KEY BENEFITS - The essential oils and distinct aromas of the Hawai'i bath is believed to soothe and stabilize the nervous system, relax muscles and help relieve jet lag.

The Maui Bath

Wailea Blue Sea Salt & Coconut Nectar

Nicknamed the “Valley Island” for the verdant lands nestled between Mt. Haleakala and the West Maui Mountains, Maui is famed for its expansive white-sand and blue-water beaches, scenic beauty, and the abundance of coconut palm trees. Coconut was valued cargo on the sailing canoes of the original Polynesian voyagers to Hawai‘i. The Maui Bath is a mélange of Wailea blue sea salt and Niu coconut oil, blended with essential oils of eucalyptus, rosemary and Ylang Ylang.

KEY BENEFITS - The essential oils and distinct aromas of the Maui bath is believed to help oxygenate and hydrate the skin and alleviate stress.

The Lana'i Bath

Green Papaya Sea Salt & Golden Pineapple

Lana'i is known as the "Pineapple Island," as it once was an island-wide pineapple plantation. It also gains part of its unique identity from the bountiful Cook Island Pine trees and the iconic Sweetheart Rock, which is located on the south shore. The Lana'i Bath is a blend of green papaya sea salt with red ala'ea volcanic clay, extracts of succulent pineapples, organic green papaya powder, and essential oils of lemongrass and mandarin.

KEY BENEFITS - The essential oils and distinct aromas of the Lana'i bath have protein-dissolving plant enzymes believed to assist in exfoliating and strengthening the skin.

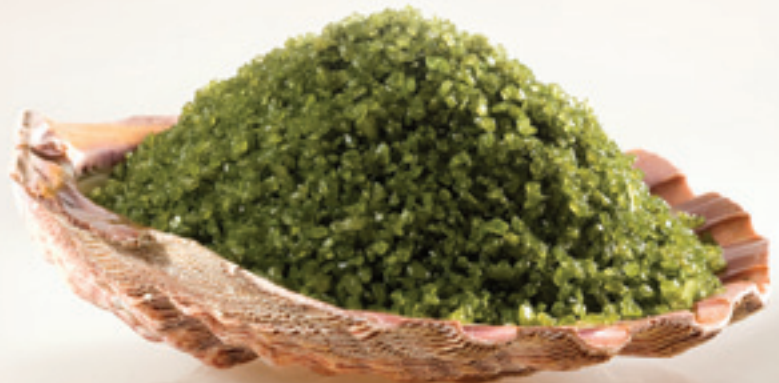

The O'ahu Bath

Bamboo Green Sea Salt & Spirulina

O'ahu, known as "The Gathering Place," is home to a sacred grove of Hawaiian bamboo dedicated to their creator. It is also our source for the powerful blue-green algae Hawaiian Spirulina. The O'ahu Bath contains a blend of bamboo green sea salt, Hawaiian spirulina, organic seaweed powder and essential oils of lime and grapefruit.

KEY BENEFITS - The essential oils and distinct aromas of the O'ahu bath are rich in antioxidant qualities. The bath is believed to tighten skin and relieve fluid retention.

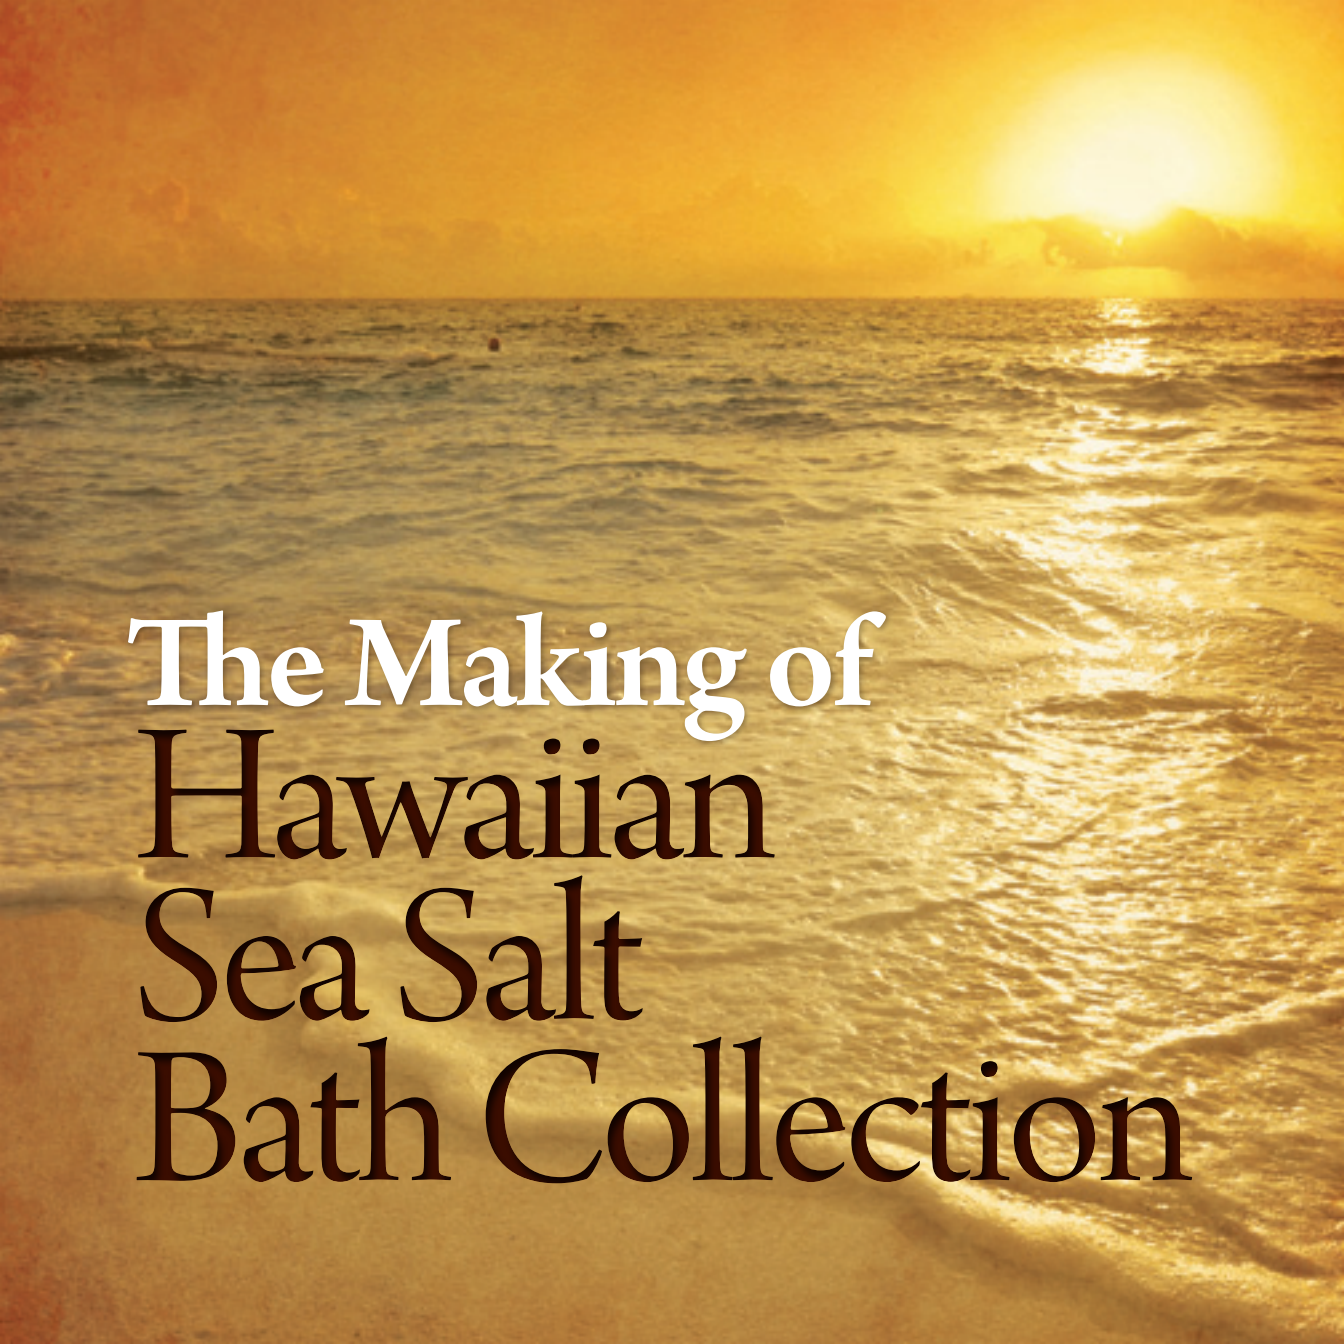

The Kaua'i Bath

Lava Red Sea Salt & Tropical Guava

Kaua'i is called the "Garden Isle" for its bountiful guava fields, extraordinary wild flowers, and Eden-like natural beauty. The prized volcanic healing clay known as red ala'ea can also be found here. The Kaua'i Bath is based on lava red sea salt bonded with this extraordinary clay, then infused with organic passion flower powder, the sweet scent of Guava essence, and essential oils of orange, lavender, and clary sage.

KEY BENEFITS - The essential oils and distinct aromas of the Kaua'i bath is believed to regenerate cells and tone the skin. The vitamin-rich burst of citrus is also said to be an aphrodisiac.

The Making of Hawaiian
Sea Salt
Bath Collection

On December 2009, the Spa Grande team traveled to Maui's sister island, Moloka'i where they met with Hawaii Kai, Moloka'i salt masters, to understand the harvesting and healing powers of sea salt.

With no polluting industries, no agricultural runoff, the waters of Moloka'i are among the cleanest in the world. Hawaii Kai is able to maintain the highest purity possible through its proprietary "Solar Seal" technology where Moloka'i water and the salt it yields are completely protected from outside elements and touch only food-grade materials during the entire "closed matrix" Solar Seal process.

In addition to Hawaii Kai, Spa Grande also partnered with Ala Lani Bath & Body for the blending of indigenous organic herbs, fruits, spices and unique essential oils that epitomize each island.

All Spa Grande

treatments include a one-hour complimentary use of the hydrotherapy circuit featuring a Roman hot tub and cold plunge, eucalyptus steam and Redwood saunas, traditional Japanese furo bath, three cascading massaging - waterfalls, tropical rain showers, a full-body honey mango exfoliation and the new Hawaiian sea salt baths.
